Three PSYC Lectures, one from each of the following groups:

Group A: PSYC BC1107 Psychology of Learning  or PSYC BC1115 Cognitive Psychology

Group B: PSYC BC1110 Perception  or PSYC BC1119 Systems and Behavioral Neuroscience

Group C: PSYC BC1125 Personality  or PSYC BC1129 Developmental Psychology  or PSYC BC1138 Social Psychology  or PSYC BC2156 Clinical Psychology

Two PSYC Labs, from different groups, (Intro) 1015; (A) 1106, 1114; (B) 1109, 1118; (C) 1124, 1128, 1137, and 2155:

Senior Requirement (includes Capstone Essay written in any 3000-level seminar, taken in final two semesters):

Additional PSYC Lectures or Seminars* (worth 3 or more credits each; bringing total to 8 PSYC courses):

One course from a cognate discipline (ANTH, COMS, ECON, LING, PHIL, SOCI, and STEM):

Two Semesters in another science, both with laboratory components (ASTR, BIOL, CHEM, EESC, or PHYS):

Notes:
1. Students are recommended to take BC1001, but a student with accepted AP/IB credit can take another PSYC course in its place.
2. Group A, B, C labs must each be taken along with their respective lectures, in the same semester. BC1015 can accompany BC1001, or be taken in a later semester; and should not be taken after an ABC lab because it is a more basic course.
3. Including PSYC BC3601-3608, BC3591-92, and BC3473. Submit Senior Requirement Declaration Form by semester drop date.
4. Only two semesters of the following courses may count towards the major: PSYC BC3465/66, BC3591/92, BC3601-3608.

General Guidelines:
• At least 6 of the 8 PSYC courses worth three or more credits each must be taken at Barnard or Columbia.
• A letter grade of C- or better must be earned in all PSYC courses applied to the major. Any required courses from outside of Psychology can be graded P/D/F, as long as a student receives a "Pass."
• A student cannot receive credit for two courses that are considered to be equivalent. Refer to our “Overlapping Courses” list.
• A single semester of a course cannot count toward more than one requirement.
